West ICB (BOB)

Naomi Radcliffe is the Director of the Buckinghamshire, Oxfordshire and Berkshire West Acute Provider Collaborative, where she leads the design and implementation of programmes aiming to improve outcomes, access and experience for patients across the area.

Prior to joining the NHS, Naomi was the Director of a home-based digital diagnostic service, increasing uptake of urine testing among patients living with diabetes and hypertension in England. She has over six years’ experience in central government, including in the No.10 Policy Unit where she was the Senior Health Policy Adviser and in the Department of Health and Social Care, where she was the Deputy Director for Provider Productivity and Efficiency. During the pandemic, she was the Deputy Director for asymptomatic testing policy, helping to make testing available across all educational settings, in workplaces and from GOV.UK or pharmacies.

Earlier on in her career, Naomi was a policy fellow leading the Patient Safety Translational Research Centre at Imperial College London and a programme manager for Optum healthcare consultancy.

Chaired by:

Aidan Rave
Principal Consultant, GGI

Aidan focuses on supporting senior leaders to make better decisions through both individual and board-wide coaching, reviews, advisory and challenge. He is an expert in culture change, organisational design and developing corporate strategy and specialises in performance turnaround and optimisation.

As a former chief executive, elected member and advisor, Aidan has a broad and very practical insight into the workings of local government and the critical importance of effective governance at the heart of high-performing organisations. At GGI, Aidan focuses on board development and facilitation, with a particular emphasis on Integrated Care Boards, organisational design and senior level coaching and development. He is also currently a non-executive director of the Buckinghamshire, Oxfordshire, and Berkshire West (BOB) Integrated Care Board.
